Greater New York Is Counted.

SUPREME COURT MAKES DECISION

District Attorney Jerome, And Even Candidate Ivins,
Are Interested To See The Editor
Politician Win.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]
New York, Nov. 9.—The police are today delivering the ballots of the recent election according to the order issued last night by the supreme court. All classes and members of all parties today demand the completing and sitting of the fraud charges. Scores of telegrams have been received urging Hearst to fight.

Voorhis Acts
John Voorhis, president of the board of elections, claiming that according to the decision of the supreme court the police and not the board are the proper custodians of the returns, today refused to receive the returns and the ballots are kept in wagons outside of the building awaiting a decision from the corporation counsel to whom Voorhis has appealed.

Started Early
At three this morning police officers and Hearst's watchers with wagons and automobiles filled the streets around the board of elections' office. The crowd went to the home of Voorhis demanding that he open his office and said it would not wait until the regular time at nine this morning. Voorhis thinks the order of the court has resulted from a misunderstanding.

Issues an Order
Justice Dickcy of the supreme court this afternoon ordered Voorhis to receive the ballots. Voorhis said he would obey and would call upon the police to guard the boxes.

Reason for Order
It developed late last evening that many of the election ballot boxes of Tuesday's election were missing. This startling discovery was made shortly after midnight, when Justice Gaynor's orders commanding the police to turn over all ballot boxes and ballots to the board of election were made.

Much Secrecy
Justice Gaynor issued the order late in the evening and Hearst men were dispatched from his headquarters to every possible precinct to see that it was observed.

For the reason, probably, that they wanted to take the police by surprise, the Hearst people preserved the greatest secrecy concerning their movements. The order took the police in every precinct completely by surprise. The Hearst guards were on hand everywhere simultaneously with the service of the order.

Ballot Boxes Are Missing.
At the Oak street station the order was received at 12:45 o'clock a. m. The sergeant who got it sent men to look up the boxes which were at the station. The boxes from nine election districts were supposed to be at the station.

The nine ballot boxes were found all right, and the nine boxes in which the constitutional amendment ballots had been put. But three of the boxes containing the detached stubs of ballots which are a check on the number of votes cast could not be found.

When they came to look for the boxes supposed to contain the spoiled and mutilated ballots, of which there should have been nine—one for each polling place—only one was to be found.

The missing ballot boxes belonged to the election precincts in the Second assembly district in which Tom Foley, the Democratic leader, is one of the candidates.

Mr. Ivins, it was said, had refused to accept any return, but had offered his services in probing the alleged irregularities. Mr. Ivins' aid will be accepted.

Makes Claims
Max Ihmsen, manager of the Hearst campaign, says that at least fifteen or twenty thousand votes are void. He protested the ballots and declares he has every reason to believe the court will declare that Hearst is elected.

Fourteen dwelling-houses and store buildings were destroyed by an incendiary fire at Roubais, aming town twelve miles of Deadwood, S. D.

The referendum in favor of having the people vote on the proposition of having a municipal electric light plant at Buffalo, N. Y., was carried by 5,741.

Berlin, Nov. 9.—King Alfonso and Kaiser Wilhelm attended the maneuvers of the 66th regiment at Maderburg today. King Alfonso was at-

Hearst Men Act on Rumors.
The Hearst workers at the Hoffman house heard a report Wednesday afternoon that the Martin B. Brown company had been at work printing ballots late Tuesday night. They also got another report, said to have come from a friendly policeman that the ballot boxes were to be opened while in the police hands and stuffed.

None of the Hearst men investigated the truth of these reports, but they made up their minds to act at once.

The order directs the police commissioner and all subordinates in the five boroughs to turn over to the board of elections forthwith all ballot boxes containing ballots and stubs, and also to file with the county clerk before noon to-day all envelopes containing tally sheets, inspectors' returns, defective ballots and ballots marked for identification.

Believes Ballots Were Miscounted.
The order was issued on the affidavit of Mr. Hearst himself. The affidavit states Mr. Hearst's belief that he received a plurality of the votes, but that, according to the returns, 3,600 more votes than he himself received were counted for McGlellan.

Mr. Hearst then refers to statements made to him by various persons regarding the throwing out as defective of ballots which according to information and belief, he believes should rightly be counted for himself.

Refuse to Obey Order.
When notice was served on the sergeants in command of Charles street and West Twentieth street stations to send their ballot boxes to the bureau of elections the sergeants refused, saying the captains of their stations were the men to tell them what to do and that they would not send the boxes until their superior officers had notified them.

Mr. Hearst and the Municipal Ownership league began to hire lawyers Wednesday, and it was announced at night that one of the first of the many offers of aid which Mr. Hearst had received was one from William M. Ivins, the defeated republican candidate.

Mr. Ivins, it was said, had refused to accept any return, but had offered his services in probing the alleged irregularities. Mr. Ivins' aid will be accepted.

Minor Offense.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, Nov. 9.—Word has been received here that a revolution of both the military and naval forces of Brazil has broken out. The reports known here today are very meagre, but report that there is a serious loss of life and that the matters have taken a serious stand. The following report is said to have been sent out this morning from Rio de Janeiro, but is not believed by the leaguers here as being correct.

Merely Mutineer
Rio Janeiro, Nov. 9.—The garrison of the Santa Cruz fortress has rebelled. There is no political motive and the public are calm. The mutineers surrendered today.

The Fighting
The league here at Buenos Ayres claims to have the following account of the trouble from an uncensored correspondent. It is to the effect that the whole garrison of the city and harbor has rebelled and that the fleet has taken sides with them and threaten to bombard the city.

Hundreds of persons have been killed in encounters in the streets. One dispatch says that the trouble began with a mutiny of the garrison of the fort of Santa Cruz, due to the ill treatment of a sergeant by the officer in command.

Col. Pedro Ino was arrested and Maj. Freire and an ensign were killed. Troops were sent there to quell the mutiny.

Believe News Is Authentic.
At the Brazilian legation there is no news of the outbreak, but Brazilian residents here say that a revolution would not surprise them, as the chiefs of the last revolutionary attempt were recently pardoned, the principal leader being Lauro Sodre, who was active.

Fire has destroyed the promenade along the beach and many chalets at Mars del Plata, a fashionable summer resort on the Atlantic, have been damaged.

The loss is estimated at half a million pesos.

It is asserted that the fire was of incendiary origin.

History of Former Revolt.
A revolutionary attempt to overthrow the Brazilian government failed in 1894. The revolt began in the province of Rio Grande do Sul, and, though the military power curbed the insurgents, the spirit of insurrection was not crushed out until after the navy joined the revolutionary movement.

Admiral Mello, in a dramatic withdrawal from the cabinet, attacked President Peixoto. The admiral's political opponents said his action was due to his desire to become the next president.

On the evening of Sept. 5, 1893, Admiral Mello raised his flag on the Aquidaban, in Rio Janeiro harbor, and every government vessel in port accepted his command in aid of the insurgent cause.

The next morning the admiral sent a message to President Peixoto demanding his resignation and the surrender of the government. Peixoto defied the admiral and took vigorous measures to frustrate the revolution. Congress declared Rio de Janeiro in a state of siege.

Bombards Rio de Janeiro.
Admiral Mello met the fire of the land forts with a bombardment of Rio de Janeiro on Sept. 13. The bombardment lasted six hours, but did little damage. Another bombardment was made in Sept. 22.

In the meantime President Peixoto became more aggressive and the insurgents met with a number of mishaps. Peixoto purchased a number of ships, converted them into war vessels, and gradually gained the upper hand. The rebels were unable to gain a foothold on land.

In the southern provinces the insurgent following began to break up owing to the harmony and lack of concerted action, and Admiral Mello on April 16, 1894, surrendered himself and his command.

President Peixoto later proclaimed amnesty to all privates, and the revolt was at an end.

A GREAT DAM ON THE RIO GRANDE

THAT WILL MAKE THE IMMENSE TRACTS OF LAND ARABLE AND INCREASE POPULATION

Benefits to Territory of New Mexico Will Possibly Make It Eligible to Statehood.

(By L. A. Littlepage.)
What may be the destiny of New Mexico? There she lies in the heart of arid America, 122,400 square miles of broad plains, rugged mountains and sage brush deserts; greater in extent than all New England with New York and New Jersey thrown in, but with a population but little more than one-third that of Boston.

So many centuries ago that no tradition remains concerning it, a mighty civilization flourished in this territory. When Coronado sailed up the Rio Grande the Pueblo Indians were leading the waters of the river over their fields and blossoming gardens and maintaining populous and prosperous communities. But with the coming of the gold-mad Spaniards a spell more potent than the magic draught of the Catskills seemed to fall on mountain, plain and valley. When New Mexico became a part of the United States fully one-third of its area was included in Mexican and Spanish land grants, which for years afterwards were unconfirmed and therefore paid no taxes and were not available to settlers. The Indians and their Mexican neighbors were irrigating the few crops which sufficed for their simple needs through ditches constructed of a century ago when the old Overland Trail was superseded by the railroad, new settlers introduced modern systems and further depleted the flow already greatly diminished by numerous ditches taking water from the upper Rio Grande in Colorado. Further development soon became impossible unless storage of water was resorted to. The capricious river which one day had little or no surface flow, the next became a raging torrent, cutting new channels, carrying out dams and sweeping away entire farms.

A Fickle Flow.
Some idea of the erratic character of the stream may be gained by the following table, which gives the discharge in second feet for a period of eight years at the gaging station at El Paso, Texas:

Year	Max.	Min.	Mean.	Flow.
1897	17,000	0	1,871	9 days
1898	9,000	2	932	0 days
1899	1,000	0	102	161 days
1900	3,500	0	236	92 days
1901	3,950	0	499	110 days
1902	2,140	0	70	102 days
1903	18,670	0	1,429	17 days
1904	17,100	0	643	161 days

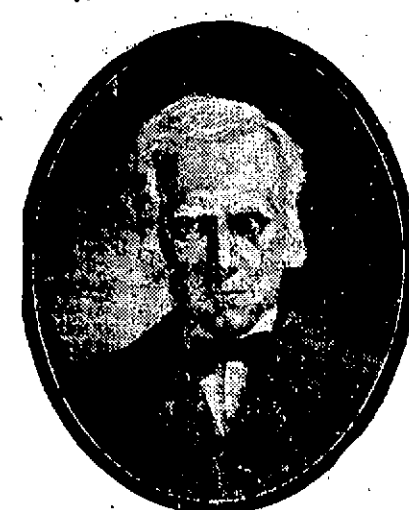

The question of water storage was further complicated by the enormous quantities of silt or sediment carried by the river, and the insecure foundations for dams. In vain private and corporate interests studied the situation, some insurmountable difficulty either in the engineering work or financing the scheme was always encountered. And so the amount of water available became less and less, and the land enriched by ages of silt-laden floods became more and more desolate.

PALACE ROLLING ON CAR WHEELS

NEW NORTHWESTERN LIMITED A MAGNIFICENT TRAIN.

THE FINEST IN THE WORLD

Its Equipments the Best Ever Known—Is Inspected by Many Citizens.

Advancement in comfort in railway trains for the passengers have taken great strides since the first train pulled into Janesville way back before the war. The old coach with its greasy leather seats, its cinders and smoke, its stove in the corner and its flickering oil lamps, has given place to the rolling palaces of today. Many residents of the city have visited the North-Western depot Tuesday and Wednesday evening and inspected the new Chicago-Milwaukee limited that passes through the city on its up-trip at nine-fifteen each night, and sixteen in the morning going down. It is one of the most complete trains in the world and is just from the car-shops, where every invention to secure comfort and ease in travel has been used in its construction. It made its first trip Tuesday night going up and returned on its trip down at sixteen this morning.

New Sleepers.
The new sleeping cars are of maximum length, being seventy-two feet from sill to sill, and they are so arranged that the usual straight compartment sleeping-car is done away with, and in its stead each sleeping-car in the train includes both open sections and private compartment with many advantages which the old compartment cars did not have. The new arrangement makes it possible to provide for toilet conveniences of a nature more complete than heretofore, each private compartment and dressing-room is amply supplied with large dressers and drawers. Space, while the patrons who occupy the standard open berths and sections will find the new style of car gives space for much more spacious dressing-rooms, both for ladies and gentlemen, than usual.

The Toilet Rooms.
One of the features of the toilet arrangements in these new sleeping-cars is the use of porcelain wash-stands instead of the usual metal wash-bowls. The electric lighting arrangements of the train are so complete, that it is no less than a brilliantly lighted moving palace. In the sleeping-cars each berth, compartment and drawing-room is equipped with individual reading lamps, and in the chair-cars and day-coaches special attention has been given to the subject of lighting, with a row of incandescent lamps on either side of the car, in addition to the usual center lights. In the buffet-smoking and library-car magnificent lamps shed a softened flood of light through delicately tinted art glass.

The Decorations.
There has never been anything produced in the way of day-coaches or chair-cars for regular train service equal to the new ones on this train to Minneapolis from Chicago. From the outside they present the same beautiful architectural lines as the most modern palace sleeping-cars, with windows of leaded glass, outlines of perfect proportions, and all painted in the rich Pullman standard color. The floors are laid with what is known as monolith, which deadens the noise and reduces the sound of the train to a minimum. The floor covering is linoleum and carpet. The reclining chairs are of a design that includes the most recent improvements, and the seats in the day-coaches are provided with high backs and rich upholstery.

The Interior decorations of the entire train are in green and gold, with olive green plush upholstery and rich panelings of vermilion mahogany.

The Safety.
The question of safety has always received a great deal of attention on the North-Western line, and the construction of these new cars is in keeping with the latest improved devices for securing an absolute maximum of safety to patrons. The cars are all built with heavy steel frames, reinforced with steel girders in such a way as to secure a sum total of strength to stand every emergency.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY IS MEETING IN LINE CITY

Several Local People Are in Attendance at the Conference Which Opened Today.

At the M. E. church in Beloit today the thirty-second annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was opened and the sessions will continue through Saturday. Among those from Janesville who are on the program are Mrs. E. S. McClesney and Mrs. E. J. Bloomer. From other sections of the country there are expected to be present: Mrs. R. W. Cheever of Clinton, Mrs. John Stanley of Orford, Mrs. T. W. North of Milton Junction, Miss Phoebe Swan, Mrs. H. S. Clifford, Mrs. J. C. Pierson, and Mrs. N. A. Marshall, of Beloit.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newborn's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBORN'S HERPICIDE does the work. For the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes jaundice, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBORN'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MAKE PLANS FOR THE HARDEST GAME YET

Coach King Tries Running for His Men—Yost is Very Busy at Michigan.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 9.—While Dr. Kraenzlein, trainer of the University of Wisconsin football squad, is recuperating the five bader players who were reported as injured in the Minnesota game, Coach King and Holt are holding camp, both systematic practices. Rosell, Berke, Emday, Brindley and Gelbach comprise the hospital list, but Berke has been in the signal practice. While the work on the field does not include any scrimmage or hard tackling drill, and does not appear to be very earnest, yet it is effective, and besides following the plan of saving the men and keeping them from getting over-trained for the Michigan game, is being directed to the correction of weaknesses displayed in the two big contests through which the team has gone this fall, against Chicago and Minnesota. An entire afternoon was devoted to running down after punts and developing speed for open field work. Most of another afternoon was spent in catching punts and in protecting Melzner in drop kicking. The importance of this work will be understood when it is stated that Michigan is expected to be the strongest in running back kicks and in open field plays as end runs, flanked passes and fake plays. The strength of Michigan's defense is expected to be such as to compel the badgers to strike for points whenever the cardinal team gets the ball within 30 or 40 yards of the Wolverine goal. In such emergencies Melzner's drop kick worked successfully against Minnesota for the required winning points, will be called for. Melzner tried once in the Chicago game, but the kick was so nearly blocked that the quarterback was able only to boot the ball into the line of scrimmage. He tried twice in the Minnesota game, scored once and it is said that the decision on the other attempt was exceedingly close, but Lieutenant Hackett said it was no good. With the exception of perhaps one scrimmage next week the Beloit game Saturday will be the only hard genuine football given the badgers before the Michigan game.

At Michigan.
Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 9.—The Michigan team is working hard each day for the game with the badgers a week from Saturday. Wisconsin's victory over the heavy Minnesota team has struck a considerable bit of fear into the hearts of the local students, but still there is every indication that when the time comes there will be plenty of Ann Arbor money offered at even odds and probably as high as 5 to 3 that the Wolverines will be the victors. Only one thing troubles Yost. He fears that he will have to show his entire hand to take the Wisconsin trick and then Stag will have the advantage of the battle on Thanksgiving day. The sale of seats for the Wisconsin game so far has been tremendous. The general sale began at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and there was a line several blocks in length waiting to get to the ticket seller. This line was started fourteen hours before the time to open the board and many stood in the line all night so as to be able to get the best seats. Besides this, mail orders are coming in by the hundreds and are being filled at once. Last night there were few desirable seats left in the big grand stand. Another man was added to the hospital list yesterday, when Reinschold was compelled to leave the squad with a case of tonsillitis.

News for the Railroad Men.

North-Western Road.
The track leading into the cinder pit, which was recently raised, has again been lowered, it having been impossible to hoist the cinder buckets high enough to clear the sides of the cars. The purpose of elevating is to lessen the grade to the level of the yards so that when the rails are covered with ice during the winter it will be easier to haul the loaded cars out of the pit. To accomplish this the hoists are now being remodeled. The cylinders are being lengthened and raised and the piston rods lengthened. This will make it possible to lift the buckets quite a bit higher and the track will again be raised.

Engineer J. M. Smith is laying off.

General Railway News.

Under the provision of the Texas statute which gives to the Railroad Commission of that State authority to regulate abuses on the part of the railroads operating in Texas, the Railroad Commission has issued an order requiring the International and Great Northern to run its St. Louis-San Antonio southbound train on schedule time. This would prevent necessary connections with other trains at important intersecting points when they happen to be late, thus accommodating travelers as well as interfering at times with the transportation of the mails. The order seems to have been issued upon the complaint of local citizens resident in Texas.

At the instance of a firm of hardware jobbers in Wichita, the Board of Railroad Commissioners of Kansas has taken steps to compel the roads of that State to reduce their railroad freight rates from Missouri River points to interior Kansas wholesale distributing centers. The reduction proposed amounts to eight cents per hundred pounds from the Missouri River to the towns of Salina, Hutchinson, and Wichita.

Accident Bulletin No. 16, just issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission, completes the record of accidents to employees and passengers upon the railroads of the United States for the year ending June 30. The total number of passengers killed in train accidents was 350; injured 6,498. The total number of employees killed in train accidents was 226; injured 7,652. There were 187 passengers killed in other than train accidents, and 3,542 injured; and 2,403 employees killed in other than train accidents, and 33,374 injured, making a total of all classes of 537 passengers killed and 10,040 injured, and 2,263 employees killed and 45,426 injured. This is an increase of 117 passengers killed and 1,663 injured; a decrease of 106 employees killed, and an increase of 2,160 employees injured. There were 6,224 collisions during the year, with a money loss of $4,849,054, and 5,371 derailments, with a money loss of $4,862,602; a total of 11,595 collisions and derailments and a total money loss of $9,711,656, being damage to cars, engines, and roadway.

— FORTY YEARS AGO —

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, November 9, 1865.—Incidents of the election.—A good story is told of a couple of Celtic citizens who approached one of the polls in the city for the purpose of voting. Each had a ticket which they were examining, and which seemed to give intense satisfaction until they came to the line "For the extension of suffrage," when one says to the other: "You don't want to vote that ticket; it is to give the right of suffrage to the nigger;" when the other replied: "And sure I do—let the nigger suffer!" and in went the ballot.

Another yarn not far behind the above is told of an effort to secure a vote for Bates in the Second ward. A messenger was sent to the home of a Teutonic voter to obtain his presence at the polls. His wife informed the party enquiring for him that he was not at home, but seemed anxious to know why he was wanted, and asked what he was wanted for. When told, the woman said they need not look for him any longer as he had voted for Mr. Bates ten days ago!

The laugh was got onto a supporter of Mr. Richardson on this wise. He heard of a voter on his side who was digging potatoes in the town of Harmony. Without noticing what he was about, he jumped into a carriage in the employ of Mr. Bates, and started for his man. On his way out he conversed with the driver who saw how the land lay. When the gentleman in quest of the vote left the vehicle to get his man, the driver only turned around and left the passenger to walk home! That's where the laugh came in.

The Election.

Returns already received from various parts of the state indicate that the majority for the Union ticket will not fall short of 6,000 and may reach a considerably higher figure. We should judge there should be considerable Union gains in both branches of the legislature.

In this county all the Union nominees have been elected by handsome majorities, save the member of the Assembly from this district, and possibly the School Superintendent in the First Superintendent's district, where Rev. J. I. Poole ran as the soldiers' candidate.

Dr. C. H. Burrows will commence a course of lectures on Phrenology and Physiology in Lippin's Hall on Friday night, illustrated by an extensive apparatus. Admission free.

"A lion is known by his paw"
—seeing only its paw you could not be persuaded that it was a coyote or jack-rabbit. A store is known by its ads. A man who has never been in this city would be able to identify, unerringly, the enterprising and important stores simply from looking over the ads in this newspaper. . . .

The nation needs the governor in its hour of railroad peril. Will he turn a deaf ear? Hardly.

The Mormons of Utah have discovered that there is a God in Israel. They were defeated at the polls last Tuesday.

One term as governor satisfied Douglas, the shoe man, of Massachusetts, and the state is back in the republican column.

The national democratic party will gather some crumbs of comfort from the recent elections, but there won't be enough left for a lunch in 1908.

Jerome will continue to deal out justice in New York, regardless of friend or foe. He is a more important figure than the mayor.

No new candidates for governor have developed during the past twenty-four hours. There are only six in the race with plenty of room for as many more.

Congressman Cooper will soon have to decide some knotty problems. He is placed between the devil and deep blue sea and liable to get wet whichever way he jumps.

Hearst will hardly aspire to the presidential nomination in 1908. When New York city turns him down there is but little show for him with the people at large. His defeat means a clear field for Bryan.

If there is any reason why Kenyon College in Ohio should continue to exist it is not apparent to the casual observer. The murder of Young Pearson ought to close its doors for all time.

A committee of pedagogues has been appointed to conduct the civil service examinations in the northern part of the state. The laundry girls and coal heavers in state institutions will find it necessary to take a few lessons in phonetic spelling and vertical writing.

THE POLITICAL BOSS.
The Governor's Milwaukee organ heralds in glowing headlines as the result of recent elections, "The passing of the political boss." That comes as near being a burlesque as the claim that the same sheet is the only republican paper in Milwaukee.

If there was ever a political boss in any state Wisconsin can match him with one better until the hand is called. Talk about bosses and a machine, where can you duplicate the outfit. Tammany wasn't in it in the palmy days of Boss Tweed.

Wisconsin, with its slow-going German constituency, never heard of a machine until the opening of the new century, and now it is more completely under machine domination than any other state in the union.

The Wisconsin machine is unique in many respects. It is a one-man machine of pronounced type, and every cog in it revolves as directed by a single hand.

Every legislative district in the state, as well as every congressional district, is expected to pay tribute, or suffer the consequences and this fact is so generally recognized that it is accepted without question. "The passing of the political boss" does not apply to Wisconsin.

THE REFORM ERA.

Elections held in several states last Tuesday indicate that the people are thoroughly aroused. While Ohio was the only state to elect a full state ticket, the selection of judges, mayors and various county and city officers in other states was significant.

Party lines were ignored and the law and order element combined against dishonesty and graft in the interests of pure and wholesome government.

This was especially true in New York city, where District Attorney Jerome, running on an independent ticket, was elected by a safe majority. Jerome belongs to the class of reformers who are popular with the masses.

He is not a crank on prohibition and has no fads on questions of moral reform. He simply believes that laws are enacted to be enforced, and when complaint is made his uniform reply is: "If you don't like the law have it repealed or amended, but until that is done I shall enforce it to the letter."

People who have lived in New York for a lifetime, say that the city was never so orderly as during the Jerome administration. The man is popular because he is fearless and absolutely incorruptible.

The election of the democratic candidate McClellan for mayor of the same city, is not a surprise. With a normal majority of from eighty to one hundred thousand democracy is seldom defeated.

The strength developed by Hearst, while attributed to the issue of municipal ownership, has a deeper significance, for it points very clearly to the fact that the balance of power in New York as in many other large American cities, is close to the danger line of socialism. It is fortunate for the country that these large centers of population do not control the nation.

The state of Pennsylvania has long been top heavy with republican majorities. When the quarter million mark was not reached in a state or national campaign there was cause for surprise. Under these abnormal conditions the party became reckless and more or less corrupt.

The climax was reached in Philadelphia, that staid old city, where fraud requires a label to gain recognition. In this good old city of brotherly love the people were about to sell their souls to a gas company but before the sale was consummated a little backbone was injected into a weak mayor and the deal was off.

As a result Mayor Weaver became a national character and his re-election was not a matter of surprise. The republican party received a bad jolt in Pennsylvania through the Pittsburgh bank failure, which was attributed to political corruption. That the party needs purifying in the state is not a debatable question, but the barnacles will be removed and it will come to the surface next year with renewed vitality.

The party in Ohio is suffering from long continued factional strife and lack of intelligent and tactful leadership. The state does not belong in the democratic column and will not long remain there.

Gormanism was rebuked in Maryland and the disfranchised colored man will again enjoy the rights of citizenship.

On the coast in the city of San Francisco, Mayor Schmidt, the labor leader, was elected for a third term, with a council which is said to be in sympathy with him. The city has long been a hotbed of unionism and organized labor now has an opportunity to demonstrate its ability for intelligent self government. The experiment will be watched with interest.

The results of elections all along the line indicate that the atmosphere is charged with reform and while many of these measures are more or less erratic the general trend is towards a forward movement which will result in good.

PRESS COMMENT.

Quite Dolorous in Tone.
Madison Journal: Let it be remembered when we are laid away that this paper was run in a fashion that did not please the bar rooms.

Objections Are Mutual.
Sheboygan Journal: Madison saloon keepers object to having their screens pulled back on Sunday. So do the gentlemen who drink on that day.

The Kaiser's Designs.
London Punch: The Kaiser is irrepressible. He has now designed a set of altar ornaments for the German Protestant church in London. We trust that they will be in better taste than his designs in Morocco.

Hot Shot for Weekly Comics.
Milwaukee Sentinel: Mr. Onteal, inventor of "Buster Brown," says there are many obstacles in the way of young artists. There is some reason to regret that an exacting taste on the part of the public is not one of them.

So Accomplishment Is Useless?
Chicago Record-Herald: Some of the freshmen at Northwestern University are reported to be very poor spellers. But it is probable that they all expect when they get through to employ stenographers who will be able to make necessary corrections.

Special Research with the Egg.
Exchange: Professor Wiley proposes to test the effects of cold storage food on the human system. It is to be hoped that he will try the cold storage egg himself, so that he may speak from personal experience instead of merely observing its effect on some hired man.

Little Knightly About It.
Oshkosh Northwestern: The Minneapolis Journal declares that "football is the lineal descendant of the knightly tournament." On the other hand, however, a good many people will contend that it is more closely related to the brutal sports of the Roman forum.

Can't Wholly Exclude Fools.
Chicago Inter Ocean: It is unfair to the college fraternities that they should be held responsible for the acts of a few young idiots who happen to be included in their membership. Even the more pretensions organizations of the country are unable wholly to exclude fools.

Let the Ministers Combine!
Racine Journal: And now the ministers are declaring that their remuneration is not keeping pace with the cost of living. Form a union, gentlemen, or a combine of some sort; it's the only way left open if the people do not believe the salvation of their souls necessitates their supporting you more liberally.

Cooper's Little Dilemma.
Madison Journal: Mr. Cooper has his hands full with postmaster fights in Beloit, Racine and other cities. Editor Cham Ingersoll has done the biggest work for the congressman in the Beloit zone, but the Half Breeds are after him. Why congressmen do not settle these matters quickly before hundreds have a chance to foment is one of the things that laymen cannot understand.

De Witte's Difficult Task.
Evening Wisconsin: It is true that 90 per cent of the people of Russia are illiterate, but there is no evidence that the other 10 per cent are the ones who are refraining from pillage and murder and participation in riots. On the contrary, the quietest people in Russia appear to be the moujiks, while the university students, except at Odessa, where they seem to have become sober, are thick in the van of every excess. They and the aristocracy are likely to stand in the way of restored order as long as any element in the population.

Repudiating the Bosses.
Chicago News: A growing spirit of independence, a signal and emphatic repudiation of bossism, is the lesson of yesterday's elections in New York and Philadelphia. Popular resentment against the infamous Pennsylvania republican ring accomplished splendid results in Philadelphia. The reform movement headed by Mayor Weaver administered a crushing defeat to the gang heretofore ruling the city. Not only that, but the state republican machine has been overwhelmed by a tidal wave of popular sentiment which converted a normal republican majority of 300,000 or more into a democratic plurality of 75,000 for the head of the state ticket. The defeat of the heretofore invulnerable Penrose ring coupled with the uprisal ad press comment. . . .

Cheering Words to Hearst.
Chicago Tribune: Mayor McClellan has been re-elected and Mr. Hearst defeated. In one sense the victor is the loser and the defeated candidate is the one who has occasion to congratulate himself. The presidential possibilities of Mayor McClellan have melted into thin air. The man who can barely carry his own city with the solid support of Tammany, against an impromptu candidate, the leader of motley and unorganized forces, is not the man whom a national party will select as its standard bearer.

If Mr. Hearst had been elected his administrative capacity would have been put to a severe test for more than two years. He would have had to travel through all manner of dangerous passes before the meeting of the national convention. To preserve his popularity among his supporters he would have had to yield to all their demands, no matter how extravagant. If he had satisfied the laboring element in case of strikes he would have alienated irrevocably that conservative element which has much to do with the making of presidents. Indeed, it would have been impossible for him to comply with all the extravagant demands which would have been made by his followers and they would have begun deserting him before he had been in office six months. He has escaped these perils and pitfalls. He has shown great personal popularity and has become a presidential possibility—a Bryan of the east. He has come so near being elected as to gain much reputation and incur no responsibility. If anything shall go wrong under Mayor McClellan, Mr. Hearst's friends can say "everything would have been different if our man had been elected." Mr. Hearst certainly is the more fortunate of the two.

John Farson and Belshazzar.
Chicago Inter Ocean: Even that most agreeable of men, the First Citizen of Oak Park, finds it impossible at all times to please everybody. His intentions may be the most praiseworthy, his motives the most unselfish, his impulses the most uplifting, and yet there are persons who find fault with him.

Some days ago Mr. Farson, who owns a street car or two in Rockford, learned that the mayor and members of the city council of that city were about to visit Chicago, and impelled, as usual, by a desire to make others happy, he telegraphed the Register-Gazette of that city that he would be glad to entertain the party at luncheon. Moreover, he would invite Mayor Dunne, so that the visitors, who have a traction problem at home, might have an opportunity of learning all that is to be known regarding the immediate solution of the traction problem here. In commenting on this invitation and several criticisms to which it has given rise, the Register-Gazette very justly remarks:

"John Farson, who is in the habit of being decent to strangers in Chicago, doubtless didn't imagine for a minute that he was committing a crime by spending his money in assisting to make the trip a pleasant one for the Rockfordites, nor did the Rockfordites see anything wrong in accepting his hospitality to meet Mayor Dunne. . . ."

However, the Hon. J. Stanley Browne of the Rockford Star the morning contemporary alluded to by the Register-Gazette, continues to take a quite different view of the affair, a view which extends over almost two editorial columns, and which begins in this fashion:

"Instead of feasting the city council of the city of Rockford in a manner which recalls the feasts of Belshazzar, 'Host' Farson should give a popular and widespread demonstration of his interest in Rockford by spending the money on his street car system at so much per car, instead of on banquets at so much per plate. . . . Nothing could be more inappropriate. We need hardly say that the insinuation that the supper partook in any way of the nature of a Belshazzar feast is entirely uncalled for. There may be times, but never at the table, when the Hon. John Farson resembles a Babylonian monarch. . . . On a Sunday morning in the early autumn, when he is attired in all the glorious colorings of the season and is driving a vehicle that would have given the Medes and Persians spasms; when his cardinal scarf and his plaid waistcoat are burning holes through the north shore atmosphere—or when he is holding a summer smoker at his home and when the shimmering lights are reflected from the pellucid Desplaines—then, indeed, he might, in a way, suggest something Belshazzarian to the Hon. J. Stanley Browne, if that gentleman were fortunate enough to be among those present. . . . But take Mr. Farson in the ordinary course of a day's entertaining, and there is really nothing about him to provoke Mr. Browne's language, except it might be the bars of his plaid shirt and the pink dots on his red waistcoat.

KITTELL CASE HAS CREATED INTEREST

Attempt to Remove District Attorney of Brown County Is Being Discussed.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 9.—Prosecution or persuasion? This is the puzzle that Governor La Follette is trying to solve in the case of John A. Kittell, district attorney of Brown county, who is charged with having been in league with the grafters of Green Bay, and who is the subject of ouster petitions filed with the governor and demanding the removal of the county official. For three weeks a referee took testimony at Green Bay and long arguments on this voluminous record were made before the governor yesterday by Second Assistant Attorney General Tucker for the state against Kittell, and S. H. Cody, representing the accused official. The prosecution represented that Kittell persistently resisted and interfered with the grand jury; that investigated graft in Green Bay, and that when some 30 indictments were returned for bribery and other crimes he dropped some of the cases and refused to prosecute, and that he also struggled to render ineffective the work of Sol P. Huntington and Assistant Attorney General Corrigan, who were sent by the governor to assist in the grand jury investigation and the trials of the indicted officials. Mr. Kittell answered that the whole graft sensation was the result of the bitterness of one Allie Edwards, the proprietor of a resort in Green Bay, whose place was raided when she thought she had the "protection" that she said she paid for. Her attorney demanded that the district attorney drop the proceedings against her, and Kittell refusing, he says, the grand jury sensation was stirred up, and Kittell opposed it throughout, knowing, he says, the course and motive for it.

THE FIRE IN NIGHT-CLOTHES

Details of Janesville People's Harrowing Experience at Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Nicholson occupied a room on the fourth floor of the Oxford hotel at Portland, Oregon, the partial burning of which was noted in these pages several days ago. It was nearly 4:00 a. m. when the flames were discovered and smoke filled the room occupied by the Janesville people. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson made their way in their night garments to the third floor, where the latter fainted away. Luckily the firemen had reached the scene and some of them carried Mrs. Nicholson out of the building to a store which had been opened for the refugees across the way. Her husband then went back to make an effort to get some of their clothing and was successful in saving enough to stand them in need until they could be better provided for. Over seventy-five people were in the building at the time the flames were started by an overheated furnace. The loss was $25,000.

J.M. BOSTWICK

Bath Towel

Something entirely new. Radically different from, and better than any other towel produced. Made wholly from Egyptian (imported) long fibre cotton and possessing all its fine qualities. Novel effect and handsome appearance. Looks better, Feels better, Washes better, Wears better, and altogether gives better satisfaction than any other towel. Wonderfully absorbent. The Rubdry towel marks a distinct revolution in towel manufacture. It is so made as to produce all necessary friction with an utter absence of harshness. Absolutely superior to Turkish Towels in respect to lint and pulling out of threads. None of this annoyance so common in most towels. Handsomely finished, hemstitched ends, and most attractively put up, each towel in a separate carton.

The RUBDRY Towel is made in the following qualities:

Rubdry Jr., 25 cts. Rubdry A, 50 cts.
Rubdry O, 35 cts. Rubdry B, 75 cts.
Rubdry De Luxe, $1.00
Wash Cloths, 5c and 10c.

What are Towels for?
ABSORPTION AND FRICTION.
What is Absorption?
CAPILLARY ATTRACTION.

The Water runs up the loose fibres of the cotton in the nubs of the RUBDRY and is instantly absorbed. You do not use a piece of hard finished writing paper to take up a blot of ink, you use a blotting paper; and why? Because it is made up of loose, hairy fibres which draw the ink up. That is capillary attraction.

The Nubs in the RUBDRY give the friction.

Washing Directions:
Never iron, simply rough dry.

We have sold Rubdry Towels long enough to know that they give the best of satisfaction. We are agents for Janesville.

SAVE THEIR R. R. FARE

Dr. Richards is doing business not only for a large Janesville practice, but for a large and ever increasing patronage from our surrounding towns.

Because of two very important reasons: First, He stands out independent, not having tied his hands by signing any agreement with other dentists to maintain a high scale of prices. His prices are LOWER than those of most dentists in these outlying towns, so that people can more than save their railroad fare by coming to Janesville and having Dr. Richards do their dental work.

Second, He does PAINLESS dental work.

And if any combination of virtues will win the approbation of the man or woman in need of dental work who hates to be hurt, THIS COMBINATION ought to attract consideration.

JUDGE SALE IS CHOICE OF BAR

AS CANDIDATE FOR THE 12TH CIRCUIT BENCH.

CONSENTS TO SEEK OFFICE

When Delegation Appointed by the Meeting Waits on Him and Informs Him of the Vote.

By a majority of those who attended the joint meeting of the bar associations of Jefferson, Green, and Rock counties, called at the assembly room of the city hall at two o'clock this afternoon, County Judge John W. Sale was given the indorsement as the favored candidate for judge of the 12th judicial circuit. At the entire Janesville bar turned out; Bealot was well represented; three attorneys from Edgerton were present; and one attorney from Jefferson was present. The Green county bar association decided at a meeting yesterday afternoon to defer action with regard to indorsing a candidate for circuit judge and agreed not to participate in the Janesville meeting. The Jefferson county lawyers are reported to have had in Judge Grimm a candidate of their own but for some reason did not appear on the scene to press their claims. Shortly after the opening of the meeting Horace McElroy nominated Atty. Conwa of Watertown secretary, but he was found not to be present.

Purpose of Meeting Stated

William Smith called the meeting to order. A. A. Jackson was made permanent chairman and O. A. Oestreich was elected secretary on the refusal of Atty. Greenwood of Jefferson to act. Chairman Jackson said he was unaware of the purpose of the meeting and Secretary Oestreich read the call. City Atty. Burpee called on William Smith to explain the purpose more fully. The latter said that the purpose was to call the bar together to express its choice as to a candidate for circuit judge. It was admitted at the outset that the associations had no power to nominate or say to the people who should be judge. But it was a practice to get such an expression of the bar and it would obstruct the difficulties of many who objected to being importuned by interested persons because they did not wish to forestall any action they might desire to take in the future.

Informal Ballot Called For

E. D. McCowan moved that the meeting proceed to take an informal ballot on candidates. John Cunningham seconded the motion. W. G. Wheeler arose to inquire whether it was the intention to put a candidate in nomination and whether those present were supposed to be bound by the expression of the majority. Chairman Jackson said that he did not understand that the meeting had the power to nominate. E. D. McCowan stated that his motion was to take an informal ballot that would show the members' individual choice for circuit judge. Atty. Wheeler asked again if the result would be binding. Chairman Jackson said he understood that it would go no further than to express the choice. Charles Reeder and Stanley Tallman were appointed tellers. The informal ballot resulted as follows: Total votes cast—43.

John W. Sale..... 27

B. F. Dunwiddie..... 10

Chas. L. Fife..... 6

Formal Ballot Taken

Atty. Burpee moved that the committee proceed to take a formal ballot. M. G. Jeffris said that to his way of thinking the formal ballot would mean no more than the informal one. Cornelius Buckley believed that the formal ballot would show who was to be recommended by the bar. The vote resulted as follows: Total ballots cast—47, divided as follows:

John W. Sale..... 33

B. F. Dunwiddie..... 8

Chas. L. Fife..... 6

Judge Sale Will Run

On a motion a committee was appointed to wait on Judge Sale, inform him of the action taken by the bar, and request him to become a candidate. The committee appointed consisted of William Smith, John M. Whitehead, J. B. Dow of Beloit, E. D. McCowan, and John Rood of Beloit. The committee visited Judge Sale immediately after the meeting and he consented to become a candidate. Among the visiting attorneys present at the meeting were: Messrs. Gottle, Ladd, and Towne of Edgerton; Greenwood of Jefferson; Bates, Buckley, Dow, Rood, Menzies, Woolsey, Rosa, Udell, and Wickham of Beloit.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN THE EMPIRE HOTEL

Registered as T. Kelly, and Evidently Turned the Gas on by Mistake.

Tim Kelly, who lives on the Armstrong farm three and a half miles from Broadhead, was found dead in room twenty-five of the Empire hotel this morning, having died during the night. The remains were found by Mrs. English, who smelled gas and upon investigation found Kelly lying across the bed, nearly dressed, and the room filled with gas. Kelly started from Broadhead last night with Armstrong for Chicago, in charge of a carload of cattle. It is evident he did not intend to go to that city, as a cash fare slip for fifty-six cents was found in his pocket. He arrived at the hotel between nine and ten o'clock and was assigned to room twenty-three. He was shown how to turn the gas on and off and the last seen of him was by the clerk as he was taking off his overcoat. A half pint bottle of whiskey partially emptied was found on the washstand and when found Kelly was lying across the bed with a pipe tightly clutched in his hand. He had all his clothes on except his coat and vest and shoes and had evidently turned the gas off and then on while sitting down for a last smoke before undressing.

Aside from the cash slip for fifty-six cents, the fare to Broadhead, and the name "S. Marscher" in the hat-band and the name "T. Kelly" on the hotel register nothing was known of him until City Marshal Appleby called upon the marshal at Broadhead, gave the description of the dead man and received the identification. Kelly leaves a wife and several children and word has been sent the wife announcing her husband's death. Mr. English says the man was not drunk when he registered and the bell-boy who showed him to his room told him how to turn the gas on and off. It was not thought necessary to hold an inquest and Marshal Appleby took charge of the remains as soon as they were found, about half-past nine this morning. A physician who examined the body said he had been dead for several hours and death by accident is the decision reached.

PLAY BASKETBALL SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening the local Y. M. C. A. basketball team, accompanied by Physical Director J. A. Ward and possibly a number of rooters, will go to Rockford over the electric line to meet the Association five of that city. It is the first game of the season for the Janesville five and though the new combination is considered a strong one, its worth will be shown. Those from whom the team will be chosen are Walter Carle, Chester Morse, Leonard Mathews, Roy Palmer, Fred Wilkerson and George Sennett.

CITY VIOLATES ITS OWN PET ORDINANCE

Chief Klein Appears on Scene and Prevents Street Commissioner from Erecting Frame Shed.

This morning Street Commissioner James Sennett, who but a day or two ago interposed to prevent the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. from building a board sidewalk on North River street, thereby violating the sidewalk ordinance, commenced in the rear of the city hall the erection of a 10x20x10 ft. frame shed for the accommodation of some of the tools and other miscellaneous property belonging to the commonwealth. When Chief Engineer Henry Klein heard of this violation of the city building ordinance, he hastened to the scene and put a stop to the proceedings. If the city council wants a shed there it will have to give itself special permission to build it.

COOPER HAS A HARD TIME COMING SOON

Promises to Make His Announcement of Postoffice Appointment.

Congressman H. O. Cooper is very busy receiving delegations and committees in the interests of the three postoffices which become vacant shortly and to which successors must be appointed. Yesterday W. H. Appleby and W. G. Wheeler spent several hours with Mr. Cooper discussing the Beloit postoffice question and urging the claims of Cham Ingersoll, the present incumbent. Mr. Cooper made no announcements yesterday but said that he would give his decision as soon as he reached Washington. Mr. Dowd is the other leading candidate from Beloit, although David Worthington, editor of the Beloit News, has aspirations for the office because of work done the administration during the last campaign. There is apparently no contest on the Janesville postoffice but the Racine postoffice is the most sought after, and Mr. Cooper is having a hard time to make his selection.

MAJESTIC BAKING DEMONSTRATION

One Week---Monday, Nov. 13th, to Saturday, Nov. 18th

We heartily invite our friends to call any day during the above mentioned week and we will demonstrate the superior qualities of the

New Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Ranges

The MAJESTIC MALLEABLE and steel range as formerly turned out by the Majestic people has been considered throughout the entire country par-excellence, and far ahead of any other range made. But with the NEW CHARCOAL IRON BODY in place of steel, making it double its value, and the fact that it is the only range in existence made of Malleable and Charcoal Iron, you can readily see that if quality is considered, the Majestic leads by a big margin. WE WANT YOU TO CALL at our store during this week, and let us explain this new feature--CHARCOAL IRON BODIES; let us explain why it is the best material for range bodies, and incidentally, why it is not used on other ranges. We want you to call if you intend to buy or not, as the information gained will serve you in the future.

HANDSOME SOUVENIR--FREE

As long as they last, we propose to give to each prospective customer a neat souvenir, something that has not been offered before. If you intend to buy, call early and get one of these souvenirs;

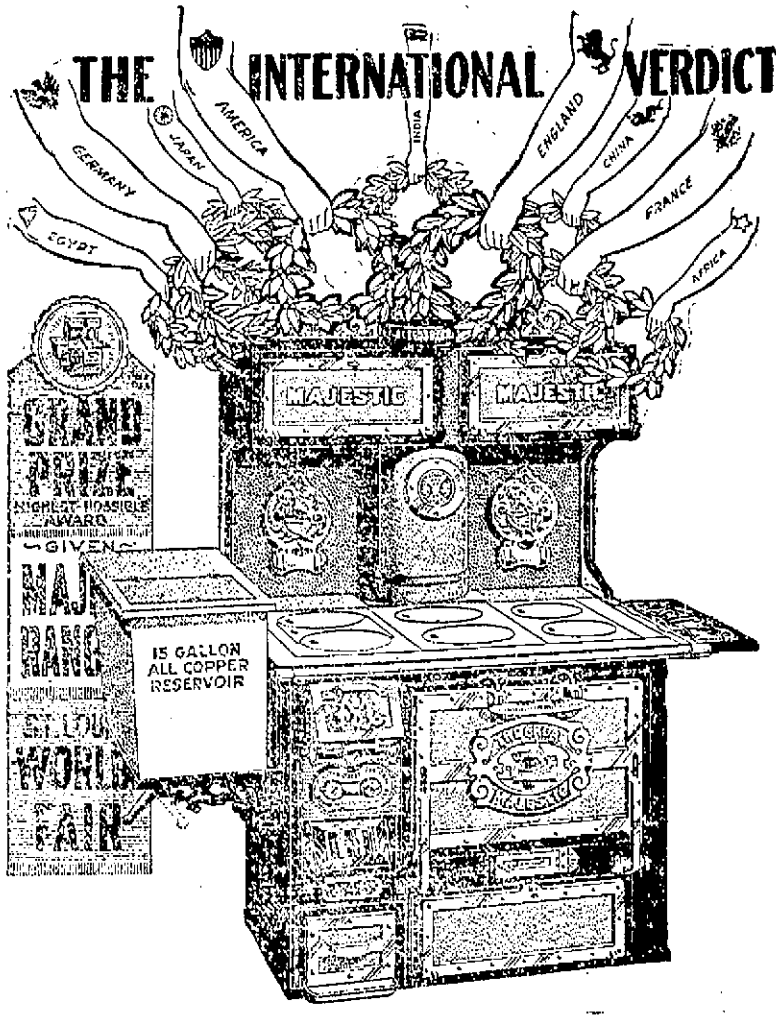

HOT COFFEE AND BISCUITS--FREE

Come any day during this week and have buttered hot biscuits and hot coffee. Biscuits baked on a Majestic in three minutes while you wait.

HANDSOME SET OF WARE--FREE

With every range sold during this Demonstration we will give absolutely FREE one set of Majestic ware worth every cent of $7.50. This ware will be on exhibition at our store. Everything useful, ornamental and durable. Come in and see it, and you will agree with us that it cannot be bought for a cent less than $7.50, and it is cheap at that.

COME IN ANY DAY, YOU ARE WELCOME WHETHER YOU INTEND TO BUY OR NOT.

PACKERS' PLEA WORRIES MOODY

Attorney General Summons Assistants to Consultation at Capital.

BASED ON GARFIELD'S PROMISE

Commissioner of Corporations Denies He Entered into Agreement With Chicago Meat Handlers for Immunity in Return for Favors.

Washington, Nov. 9.—District Attorney Morrison and O. E. Fagin, assistant attorney general, who have been assisting in the prosecution of the Chicago packers, arrived here late Wednesday night, for a conference with Attorney General Moody. Commissioner of Corporations Garfield will attend the conference at the Department of Justice.

The packers have set up the plea that, by furnishing Commissioner Garfield information for his investigation of the so-called "beef trust," they secured immunity from prosecution based on the information so secured. Facts gathered by the commissioner of corporations about the packing industry were turned over to the attorney general and withheld from the report submitted by Mr. Garfield last spring.

Garfield Made No Promises.

In all probability an affidavit by Mr. Garfield will be taken back by Mr. Morrison to Chicago, or if necessary the commissioner of corporations will be summoned to Chicago to testify that he did in no sense promise the packers or their employees immunity when he examined them for the purpose of trying to explain the wide divergence between the price of beef on the hoof and on the block.

Commissioner Garfield has repeatedly denied lately that he made any promise to the packers, but the question of immunity does not rest altogether on whether such promises were made, but rather if the course taken by the bureau of corporations was such a step toward immunity under the constitution and the provisions of the anti-trust law, by which a man cannot be forced to testify against himself.

Law Officials Are Troubled.

It is this latter phase of the point raised by the packers in their plea that is troubling the department of justice and has necessitated the trip of Messrs. Rise and Fagin to Washington to confer with their superior, Mr. Moody.

The importance of the immunity contention made by the attorneys for the packers was at first laughed at here, but as the question was more thoroughly studied it has begun to worry the government's counsel. The call for a general conference in which all the noted lawyers of the government will take part directly or indirectly, has emphasized the seriousness of the government's case at the present time.

Attorney General Moody has a deep personal concern in the outcome of the prosecution of the packers at Chicago. He hopes to get some lasting laurels out of the case which he has failed to garner so far since he has been at the head of the government's legal department.

TAKE SENATOR FOR REPEATER

Election Officers Were Not Acquainted With Former Attorney General.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 9.—United States Senator Knox was mistaken for a repeater here at the election. He went quietly to the polls in his recently adopted precinct. After he had voted the election watchers decided they did not know "P. C. Knox" and started officers after the senator. An acquaintance of Mr. Knox who happened to be in that vicinity rescued him from what was for the moment an awkward predicament.

WORST BANK FAILURE HE EVER INVESTIGATED

Examiner Says Enterprise National Depositors Are Mostly Small Wage-Earners—Lose All.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 9.—Special Examiner Edward P. Moxey and Receiver John D. Cunningham of the Enterprise National bank held a conference Wednesday with United States District Attorney John W. Dundle regarding the affairs of the bank. After the meeting, however, Mr. Moxey spoke freely on the fearful condition of the Enterprise National bank.

"The Enterprise failure is about the worst I ever investigated, and I've handled many," said Mr. Moxey. "Have you been able to account for any of the $700,000 or $800,000 missing from the bank, and will the amount reach that figure?"

"It is worse than that," he replied, "but I cannot give any definite information."

"How many depositors has the bank?"

"I presume there are over 3,000. It is really distressing to see the scenes that are witnessed there every day. There is not a day passes but that I have the headache. Most of the accounts in the bank were interest accounts, kept principally by small wage-earners, and these depositors will fare with the rest. I was much surprised when a man came in the bank and said he had $2,100 on deposit. He didn't look it."

Moxey was asked if he did not intend to make prosecutions, but said it was not his duty to go more than to report to the United States attorney, who could take such action as he chose.

The department of justice at Washington has vetoed the move of Receiver Cunningham to have preferred creditors.

STATUS OF MINERWORKERS TOWARD THE OPERATORS

President Mitchell Declares Their Interests Are Reciprocal and Commends the Joint Agreement.

Clinton, Ind., Nov. 9.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine-workers of America was the guest of the people of this district Wednesday. Work was suspended at twelve mines and every business house was closed during the mass meeting. President Mitchell spoke to about 1,000 school children in the morning, addressed over 5,000 people in the afternoon and delivered a response at a reception in his honor at night.

In the afternoon Mr. Mitchell spoke of the relations of labor to capital. He denied the statement credited to him that the interests of capital and labor are identical.

"Their interests are not identical," said Mr. Mitchell. "They are reciprocal. The operators and miners are jointly interested in the production of coal and of obtaining good markets. Their interests diverge when it comes to dividing the profits of the industry. The best thing the miners and operators ever did was to establish the joint agreement. No man has ever accused me of being afraid to strike. While I am not afraid to strike, I do not believe in such measures except as a last resort."

1905 CLASS TOKEN AT LAST ARRIVES

Mistake of Statuary Firm Finally Righted and High School Received Piece Ordered.

When the class of 1905 was graduated from the Jamesville high school last June, a token, according to custom, was presented to the school. The class had ordered an expensive reproduction of "Samothrace Victory," thirty-six inches in height, but by error a piece half that size was shipped. In the commencement exercises, Miss Ethel Fifield, who made the speech of presentation, unveiled a small reproduction of the same statue. Some trouble was experienced in having the mistake righted and finally a member of the art firm, from whom the piece was purchased, visited the city and put matters straight. The piece originally ordered, was shipped and arrived yesterday. It is to be placed upon a pedestal and ornament the assembly room of the high school building.

"Samothrace Victory" is one of the greatest art monuments of antiquity. It was found in Samothrace in 1863 and is now in the Louvre, Paris. This colossal winged figure, the head of which has been lost, stood with full drapery blown by the wind on a pedestal, representing the bow of a trireme. The statue is supposed to be a commemoration of some great naval victory—probably that of Demetrius of Macedonia over Ptolemy of Egypt in 306 B. C.

MUSIC HELPS DENTISTRY.

Piano Playing Serves to Distract the Patient's Attention from the Pain.

"A piano player as an adjunct to the dentist's set of tools is a novelty to me," said a woman. "I just had to see the dentist the other day, and as it happened my regular practitioner was on a vacation, so I went to another man, near by."

"He took me in hand in good shape, and started the buzzer going. Then before he put it to my tooth he walked over to a piano I had observed in the corner and touched a button. The thing began playing right away and ran from ragtime to sacred music before it stopped."

"The music seemed to distract my attention somehow, and the dentist had finished his job in what seemed an unusually short time. But I think it was more the novelty than the soothing qualities of the music that appealed to me."

"The dentist told me, however, that he had found the instrument very useful in quieting nervous patients."

Rhine Not All German River.

A German geographer calls attention to the fact, known to few that the Rhine gets some of its water from Italy. Some miles above the Via Mala the Rhine is augmented by a turbulent mountain torrent whose chief tributary is a brook that comes from the Val di Lei, which politically belongs to Italy, though separated from the rest of that country by glacier-covered mountains over which there is a trail to Chiavenna.

Crab Shell a Barometer.

The inhabitants of southern Chili are said to foretell the weather by means of a strange barometer. It consists of the cast-off shell of a crab. The dead shell is white in fair, dry weather, but indicating the approach of a moist atmosphere by the appearance of small red spots, as the moisture in the air increases it becomes entirely red and remains so throughout the rainy season.
